

Ends of Audience

An interdisciplinary workshop on audiences and interaction

People in audiences act: they talk, clap, heckle, sigh, inhale, exhale, rustle, twitch, tweet, dance, flirt, laugh, whisper, shuffle, cough... In doing so, they interact. There is a structure and dynamic to these responses which is central to the experience of being in a live audience.

This workshop aims to bring together researchers and professionals with interests in performance, interaction and technology who are working on understanding, instrumenting or experimenting with these dynamics, and the changing ends of audience that they reveal.

Queen Mary
University of London

The Ends of Audience: 30-31 May 2012

A two day workshop held through the Arts2 venues
Queen Mary University of London
<http://qmedia.qmul.ac.uk/audience> audience@qmedia.qmul.ac.uk